

PERMISSION TO DISTRIBUTE TRANSCRIPT DATA
THROUGH TALKBANK
Carnegie Mellon University

Carnegie Mellon University is participating in a data-sharing program known as TalkBank that was established through federal and foundation grants to Brian MacWhinney at Carnegie Mellon. For the program to function properly, contributors will be asked to and will give permission for their work to be made available to other researchers. With a full understanding of the aforementioned, I hereby give permission to TalkBank to make and circulate electronic copies of the language transcripts that I describe below. These copies may be distributed to scholars and other responsible parties. I warrant that this use of the data is in accord with Human Subjects review procedures at my institution and that the Institutional Review Board at the University of Missouri, where the data were collected, has given me permission to contribute these transcripts for use by researchers. I also warrant that there is no copyright restriction over the transcripts being circulated. Any further restrictions that I wish to place on the use of these data are listed under (2) below. I do not hold Brian MacWhinney or Carnegie Mellon responsible for the enforcement of these further restrictions and indemnify and render harmless both Brian MacWhinney and Carnegie Mellon University against any actions at law or in equity or in similar courts of any jurisdictions arising from violations of these restrictions.

1. General description of the data set, and IRB Approval # (if available):

The data consist of monthly language samples of 9 children who stutter over a period of 10 months. The children began the study in their preschool years, ages 2;1 to 4;11 (years;months). The context of each language sample is play-based conversation with a trained graduate clinician. Stimuli included a standard set of interactive toys and books. The data were collected from 2003 – 2005.

The study was approved by the Institutional Review Board (IRB) of the University of Missouri (IRB #1039525) on June 19, 2003. This IRB later approved the contribution of the transcripts only to TalkBank (on Sept. 25, 2018). Because of the number of years that had elapsed since the data were collected, it was not possible to obtain consent from the children or their parents to contribute the data.

2. Restrictions to be placed on the use of the data:

Only transcripts are to be shared with researchers (no audio or video). Please remove any references to names.
